

Product Innovation Focus

Our Group provide an extensive range of products, technologies and services that help clients improve sustainability, manage and reduce energy and water usage and increase profitability.

Here we feature some of the innovative products that we offer and that are often used as part of the broader solutions we deliver to our clients.

Realtime Online

Realtime Online collects energy, water and building-related data, using a range of meters and wireless sensors. It allows organisations to collate and manage all aspects of usage in a single system, including monitoring critical assets, so helping to identify areas for energy or carbon emission reduction. 100% web-based, it can be accessed anywhere in the world by PC or smart device and can be used across single or multiple locations.

LED Lighting – Commercial range

Contemporary design meets cutting edge technology with our LED panel range. Ideal as a source of ambient lighting anywhere, from hotels to airports and office spaces, our panels can deliver savings of up to 70% over florescent equivalents - and offer a lifespan of up to 50,000 hours, negating the maintenance issues associated with traditional lighting systems.

Chloro-sol - Efficient secondary disinfection

A sustainable solid chemical solution which eliminates ClO₂ risk and removes COSHH impact from secondary chemical disinfection. Chlorosol has a low corrosive effect and is an easy, low cost replacement for existing installations.

IMOP

The Induction Motor Optimisation Panel (imop™) optimises the electricity consumption of equipment that uses an electrical induction motor. It increases the efficiency and lifespan of both the electrical infrastructure and motors in devices such as compressors, pumps, heaters, refrigeration equipment, chillers and industrial manufacturing equipment.

Project Financing

We can fund energy efficiency and renewable energy schemes from the savings made in energy and water management and related costs. Clients enjoy significant cost reduction with limited or no capital expenditure, as their investment is repaid from the savings we identify and help make. Finance can be structured so that your business gains immediate benefit from these efficiencies.
